A washing machine with a whole range of advantages

Allow us to introduce you to the ECG EWS 70142 Steam Wash automatic washing machine, which, due to its 7 kg capacity, is a great choice even for households with children. Despite its compact Slim design, this appliance boasts excellent parameters and offers a number of modern gadgets, the cooperation of which will bring you perfectly clean laundry. You can use 15 programs, including special modes for washing bedding, jeans or even curtains. Extra efficient steam washing is also available here. And you will certainly appreciate the economical operation of the washing machine, which guarantees the inclusion of the appliance in energy class A. This freestanding washing machine has a classic front loading design and its dimensions are (height x width x depth) 840 x 595 x 450 mm. So that you can easily place it where you need it, it also allows equalizing the stability with the help of adjustable legs."

Efficient wringing

The laundry you take out of this washing machine will not only be perfectly clean, but also perfectly wrung. The drum of the appliance can develop a speed of up to 1400 revolutions per minute during spinning. You will especially appreciate this when washing sweaters, towels or even jackets - because larger pieces of laundry will have significantly less residual moisture thanks to the quick spin in the washing machine and will therefore require less time to dry.

Choose a program

The ECG EWS 70142 Steam Wash washing machine is equipped with a rotary control that enables easy program selection - you can choose from 15 different presets (Cotton, ECO 40-60, Synthetics, Fast, Bedding, Jeans / dark clothes, Self-cleaning, Hand wash, Mix, Curtains, Wool, Steam wash, Spin + drain, Rinse + spin, Last set program - which, thanks to the built-in memory, copies the parameters of the last set program and repeats it). You can easily adjust the operation of the washing machine to the laundry you need to wash. The possibility of individual setting of temperature, rotation speed, level of pollution etc. will also contribute to this. In addition to the rotary program selector, a clear display and a set of simple buttons are used to control the washing machine. This way, you can handle the operation of the appliance from the left rear.

Discover the magic of steam washing

In the program menu of this automatic washing machine, you will also find steam wash, which is a great choice for washing cotton and linen clothes. At a temperature of 60°, it can remove dirt from them much more effectively. The maximum amount of filling for the steam program is 5 shirts or 5 T-shirts.

Add an additional feature

To ensure that your laundry is perfectly washed in all circumstances, this washing machine also offers you several additional functions. pre-wash or soaking will help you remove stains more effectively, and rinsing will help you remove any detergent residues. The ECO function will then allow you to reduce consumption without affecting the washing performance. And delayed rinsing allows you to stop the washing machine with water in the drum without draining and spinning. The range of additional functions also includes a practical child lock and a safety door lock.

A delayed start must not be missed

The ECG EWS 70142 Steam Wash washing machine will also make you happy with the practical delayed start function. Thanks to it, you can schedule your laundry at a time that is most convenient for you - you can easily set everything so that the laundry is done, for example, at the exact moment when you return home from work.
