A sandwich maker that doesn't stop at sandwiches

ECG S 4310 Quattre is a versatile kitchen assistant that allows you to easily and quickly prepare not only sandwiches, but also paninis and waffles. It offers three sets of interchangeable baking plates - the first allows you to prepare up to 8 triangular sandwiches, the second is a great choice for grilling or baking and the third is specially designed for waffles. Thanks to the power input 1200 W, the device also heats up very quickly. You can count on your favorite dishes being perfectly prepared in just a few minutes. The appliance also stands out with its elegant appearance, which combines stainless steel and black plastic. The design of the sandwich maker also includes the practical option of winding the power cable around the bottom, which greatly facilitates storage. The cable length is exactly one meter.

Safety and practicality come first

This sandwich maker is equipped with a number of safety features - there are heat-insulated handles to protect you from burns, as well as a safety lid lock that keeps the appliance securely closed during operation. Indicator lights also inform you about the power and readiness of the appliance for use, so you have everything under control. To have trouble-free access to the baking plates, this sandwich maker opens at an optimal angle of 105°.

When maintenance is a breeze

The non-stick surface of the interchangeable baking plates of the ECG S 4310 Quattre multifunctional sandwich maker guarantees easy cleaning, which you will appreciate especially with frequent use.
