A practical rice cooker for everyday cooking

The ECG RZ 19F rice cooker is an ideal helper for anyone who wants to prepare rice easily and without supervision. Thanks to its power of 700 W and a bowl capacity of 1.8 litres, it can prepare enough side dish even for a larger family. The bowl can hold up to 1500 g of uncooked rice, allowing you to easily prepare a large portion for a family lunch or dinner. The rice cooker is also suitable for all types of rice, so you can easily prepare classic long-grain rice as well as jasmine or basmati.

Easy to use and safe to operate

Using the rice cooker is extremely simple thanks to the manual control and clear operation indicator lights. Safety during cooking is ensured by a safety lock and overheat protection, so you don't have to worry even during longer use. Comfortable handling is provided by thermally insulated handles, while stability on the countertop is ensured by non-slip feet. Thanks to this, using the rice cooker is safe and comfortable even for everyday use.

Convenient preparation and practical equipment

The inner pot features a non-stick surface that prevents the rice from burning and also makes cleaning easier. After cooking is finished, the rice cooker can automatically keep the rice warm for up to 5 hours, so it stays hot even if the main dish is not ready yet. A removable bowl and a transparent lid are also practical, allowing you to monitor the cooking process. The package additionally includes a measuring cup and spatula, so you can start cooking immediately after unpacking.
