A compact smart TV for everyday use

The ECG 32 HSV262 TV is a practical choice wherever you want smart entertainment close at hand without needing a large screen. Thanks to its 32-inch screen size, it fits well in a bedroom, children's room, kitchen or smaller living space. The 1366 × 768 px picture is complemented by HDR support, so films, series and regular TV broadcasts remain clear and comfortable to watch.

Smart VIDAA U9 environment

The VIDAA U9 operating system provides a clear interface that the whole household can quickly get used to. You can easily access smart functions, online content and favourite services. HbbTV support is also useful, extending regular TV broadcasting with online content available via the red button.

Ready for broadcasting and Timeshift

The ECG 32 HSV262 handles terrestrial, cable and satellite reception thanks to DVB-T/T2, DVB-C and DVB-S/S2 tuners. Everyday use is made more convenient by the electronic programme guide, channel list and TimeShift function, which lets you pause live broadcasting and return to it later.

Connectivity and sound that make sense

The equipment includes 2× HDMI 1.4, 2× USB 2.0, HDMI ARC, HDMI CEC, a headphone output and an optical audio output. This makes it easy to connect a game console, laptop, flash drive or external audio device. Sound is handled by the NICAM system with 2× 10 W output and a 5-band equalizer for adjusting audio to the content you are watching.
